If they will take those deeds, study their meaning and analy the leaves to their study their meaning, and apply the lesson to their fields, they will soon realize in three-fold crops, the fact that the law has given them three farms where they supposed they had only one; in other words, that the subsoil, brought up and combined with the top soil and enriched with the atmospheric influences, and those other elements which agricultural science will teach them to apply to their ground, will increase three-fold the measure we disappointed in our hopes of having sweet hams during the summer? After carefully enring and smoking, and then sewing them up in cotton bags, we find that either the fly has commenced a family in our hams, or that the choicest parts round the bone are tainted, and the whole spoiled.

This is one of the worst enemies of the peach tree; and we regret that we have to announce, that within the past four years it has spread rapidly over this State. Four years ago we noticed a few, and last spring found every one of about seventy-five trees badly affected—some of which died.

There is no subject, more than that of noxious insects which shows the necessity of agricultural neers, which shows the necessity of agricultural reading. Heretofore we have had but to plant a peach tree, and without the least care it grew vigorously, bore heavy orops, and lived to the good old age of forty years. But this is to be no longer. Like the bee moth, which is just fluishing the bees, comes now the peach-horer and women fear, the comes now the peach-borer, and, we much fear, the apple-borer too. We must wage war upon them —a war, as we shall presently show, with the knife.

THE THEATRE. - We were much pleased to see full, fashionable, and appreciative audience at the theatre Saturday night, for Mrs. Addams deserved the compliment. The performance of the Female Gambler was not so good as it should have been, on account of some of the performers requiring so much prompting, and making so many halts; these were great drawbacks, and had an injurious effect. some few additional working people have been thrown out of employ through the strike. The people on strike walked through the streets of the town on Monday and yesterday to the number of 600 or 800 men and women, with a few additional workmen at their head, carrying boxes and books for contributions. These persons entered shops and houses on either side the route of the procession and requested subscriptions, and appeared to be rather successful in their object, though the amounts given were generally small.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR.—On the other hand, a orrespondent on the Russian frontier writes to the Cologne Gazette that the Russian government is chiefly engaged in three objects—the construction of fortifications and of steemers, and the manufacture of Minie rifles. Adding to these measures the enormous military levies and the rapidity with which the organization of the militia proceeds, it becomes evident that we must not give too much credit to the rumors of negotiation which are so constantly heard, but rather conclude that Russia is preparing for a long and obstinate condict.

It is a curious thing -a thing which tells pain fully against the honesty and patriotism of our day—to see Mr. Haven, the partner and representative of Mr. Fillmore, when the direct issue in Congress is the Nebraska swindle—an issue tendered by the administration—exerting all his influence and art to defeat the election of an anti-Nebraska Speaker. Letter from Washington. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 11, 1855.

Messrs. Editors: But little worthy of note has occurred hero since the date of my last letter, and most of what little has transpired, doubtless has eached you by telegraph.

On yesterday Banks' voto ran up to 103, and tclay declined to 106, which indicates that he cannot be elected; but if outside pressure and lobby influence can do it, he will succeed. He is nnderof the public funds, and if elected, it is calculated that the committees will be arranged with reference to their interests; hence it is that Banks has run ahead of Campbell. This result has mortified Campbell and his peculiar friends not a little, which, it is thought, will eventually defeat Banks.

I am informed that a friend of Banks handed a card to the Sonthern Whigs and Know-Nothings on yesterday, with the fellowing words written on in price. The contract rates for l'ork are £3 to £9 it: "No Banks! No Cullom!" intimating to the friends of latter that he could not be elected Clerk, unless Banks was elected Speaker, or that Banks' riends would not vote for Cullom, unless Culom's friends would vote for Banks I am also informed that Banks' friends have induced several members at different times to vote for their man, mercly to hoist him up a little; and they intend to say to these men, "You have lost caste at home by voting lor Banks, and your only chance now is to nnite upon and elect him, by which you may secure the support of the Freesoil vote of your districts." If they succeed in this plan of operations, an or-vanization of the House may be effected in a few lays: otherwise an effort will be made to induce sufficient number to absent themselves, to enable the remainder to elect. Talbot of your State stands firm with the De-Talbot of your State stands firm with the Denocracy, and Carnthers, an old-line Whig from Missonri, is also voting for Richardson. The other to advance Pennington; and if he fails, the op-

Missonri, is also voting for Richardson. The other Democrats stand firm, and will continue to do so, receives the highest vote shall be considered the without wavering, until an election is effected. Your follow-citizen, the Hon. Secretary of the Treasnry, is in fine health and spirits—cool as a nuderstand, the concurrence of all other parties, summer's morning—looking authorish he felt conummer's morning-looking as though he felt confident that everything was right in his department, and with his report and estimates ready to be submitted to Congress and the country, without a fear of the judgment to be passed upon his labors. Yours, &c., BILL POOLE-HIS CHARACTER A "GONER."-During the trial of Baker for the murder of Bill 'oole, which is not yet concluded, the character of 'oole has necessarily been developed. It is no onger regarded through the luminous haze of glory amid which he was buried, with the national flag about him, but the facts in the case come out, and it appears that he was one of the meanest and most dangerons of men-a drunken, quarrelsome, thoroughly brntal bully. The New York Post Says:

"Ouite a number of witnesses testified to the brutality and quarrelsome disposition of Poole, while Baker was described as a peaceful and inoffensive man, one who rather healed quarrels than provoked them. Poole, on the other hand, appears to have practiced 'gouging,' and was atterly nerciless against an enemy. The court-room conperciless against an enemy. The court-room con-nnes to be crowded, and the doors are consequently besieged by persons anxious to obtain admission. Baker looks easy and confident, and is attended by several of his associates. His father, a Gallery, No. 531 Main street, between Second and Third respectable old man, with a strongly-marked Weist physiognomy, also occupies a seat near him, and seems deeply interested in the proceedings."

The telegraph informed us Saturday of the fact that the jury were discharged-three were for rendering a verdict of murder, six for manslaughter, and three for acquittal.

I Here is the account of the Mormons by one who spent some time in Utah. It is given by a corespondent of the New York Tribune, and is just what we might expect: My friend gives a horrible account of the moral and social condition of the Mormons, with whom he spent some months. He left them wallowing leeper and deeper in the slough of filthy sensus ty, with a cortainty of going from bad to worse till heir whole fabric of imposture is exploded by the niscries it creates and diffuses. He says the wo-men are nearly all anxions to fly from the herrible den; especially those who have been "scaled" as the "spiritual wives" of the scoundrelly hypocrites who propagate and uphold this monstrous delusion. Nearly all the leaders have three women each up to Brigham Young's seventy, some of of the U.S. soldiers. Hundreds of these deceived abused women secretly attempt to beg the privi-lege of coming away with the troops and trains Salt Lake City, but this cannot be allowed.

ing from time to time through or coming from all would get away if they could. Such pictures of distress and despair as are presented by many of these deceived and abused women can be found nowhere else than in Utah. Handreds of them sever heard nor dreamed of the "spritnal wife" ystem until it burst upon their amazed vision on heir arrival at Salt Lake. And such a mixture of profanity and biasphemy, nonsense, impudent as-sumption, and buffconery, as is contained in their sermons and other religious exercises cannot be paralleled in the world. A "Gentile" of any account is carefully watched from the hour he ven-tures among them, and there is little semple as to the means whereby a troublesome intruder is dis-

n, if it possesses one-half of the power and ca-acity claimed for it by its proprietor, is destined oon to supersede every other weapon for warlike soon to supersede every other weapon for warring purposes now in existence. It is the most efficacious and terrible fire-arm in existence. The small carbine, now used by the U.S. mounted men, throws a ball with deadly accuracy one-quarter of a mile, and can be fired ten times per minute. It is not complicated in structure, is easily cleaned, and suffers no injury from wet weather. Mr. Sharpe is now preparing models for four new species of his weapon, namely: A small pocket pistol, calculated to throw a minnie ball one hundred yards; a cavalry pistol, with a range of five hun-dred yards; a rifle snitable for footmen, with a range of one mile; and a large gun to throw a two-ounce ball, or a small shell, one mile and a half, or as far as a man or horse can be seen to advantage. With this latter weapon, Mr. S. declares he can set on fire a house or a ship at a distance of nearly two miles, and prevent the use of field artillery by killing the horses before the gnns are brought within good range.

This rifle, in the hands of a good marksman, is equal to ton muskets, bayonets and all; for, place a man six rods distant, with a musket and bayonet, and before he can bring the bayonet into use, the rifle can be loaded and discharged ten times. They carry balls with great precision and force. Mr. Sharpo intends these rifles to become a national weapon, and should Congress, by using a little lib-crality, purchase the patent, the country would be possessed of a means of warfare nnequaled in the world. -St. Louis Democrat. ANOTHER MURDER. - Between six and sever 'clock last evening another murder was committed o clock has evening another muter was commerced in our city. The victim was Robert Pierce—the murderess Margaret Hayden!

young man well known in this city, named Robert Pierce, at a house occupied by Rebecca Waters, on Trezwant street, between Shelby and Tennes-see, which resulted in the latter striking with his open hand the former, who immediately drew a small dirk from her bosom and stabbed him in the region of the heart, from the effects of which wound he died in a few minutes. The only ex-lamations he made after being stabbed were, 'Becky, I am gone," and "Bob is dead."

The woman, we inderstand, gave herself up last evening, and as the examination will doubtless take place this morning, we forbear commenting upon the ease until a hearing is had.

Mr. Pierce was familiarly known in this city as "Bob Pierce," and was but a short time since he was arraigned for the murder of a young man. was arraigned for the murder of a young man named Win. Brown, which case is familiar to all citizens of Momphis, and bound over to court for trial, which trial would have come off at an early day had not his sudden death cancelled the bond which bound him to earth, as well as the one which bound him to appear before an earthly judge.

Flour, Whisk;, and Tobacco have long been regarded the necessaries of life—but it is a mistake. We can't he necessaries or life—but it is a mistake. buy Flour—that is, Daguerreotypists can 't—for it is too dear; the temperance men wont let us drink Whisky, and the Tobacco crop is a failure. What we can't get it is piain we must do without, and what we can do without is not a necessary. The provert, then, is a false-heed. But one of HARRIS'S Dagnr cotypes—bright, aparkling, rich, bold, and clear—which we can get and cannot do without—that is a necessary of life. ne23 Notice.

The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance in this
